

Face Reading Workshop

Naomi Tickle is returning to the UK for a limited period, following her presentation last November and by popular demand she is back to deliver a 1 day Workshop Bournemouth on 9 March 2008!

This is an ideal workshop for all areas of coaching and business development.

Career direction, business and personal relationships, personal development and communications, parent/child relationships and team building. This workshop will give you a template that will help you better understand and work with your client. It takes out the guesswork and you get results quicker.

Personology is the relationship between physical features of the face and personality. The system we use was first researched in the 1930's by Edward Jones, a California judge. He noticed a distinct relationship between the facial structure and behaviour. His research revealed a 92% accuracy for personality assessment.

The Benefits:

- Immediately identify your client's strengths and challenges.
- Identify the traits that create relationship issues.
- Identify the traits that indicate self-esteem and anxiety issues.
- Recognize which traits indicate your client's innate abilities for careers.
- Helps you create a successful coaching business.

Naomi Tickle is a certified Personologist (face reading) and career coach. She has appeared on CNN, NBC, BBC, Good Morning America and numerous television and radio interviews around the world. Articles about her work have been published in the Sunday Times, Cosmopolitan USA and UK and The Los Angeles Times.
